

Stopping Out

Any student who does not enroll for three consecutive semesters (summer is counted as one semester) must reapply through the Office of Admission and Advising for readmission to Fort Lewis College. It is the student's responsibility at the point of application to notify Fort Lewis College of any and all possible transfer, test, or military credits earned during any absences. The Effective Catalog policy, see above, will determine which catalog a student is eligible to use upon return to Fort Lewis College.
